

Ford Meter Box at the AWWA National Conference: Then and Now

The Ford Meter Box Company has been in the waterworks industry for more than 100 years. Since those humble beginnings in 1898, Ford Meter Box has been active in the American Water Works Association, and has exhibited in every national show.

The photos show the Ford Meter Box exhibits at the 1949 National AWWA Conference in Chicago, Illinois, and the 2009 conference in San Diego, California. A lot has changed in sixty years, but Ford Meter Box remains committed to providing quality water works products.

Among those manning the Ford booth in 1949 were (l to r) Richard V. Ford, Wilbur Ford, Gene Hargett, John Ford, Sr., Oliver Goodlander, Holton Ford, and Harry Hawley.

At left is our current exhibit. This photo was taken in 2009 in San Diego. Look for us in Chicago this year at the 2010 AWWA ACE. We're in booth 619. Stop by and say hello.

The Ford Meter Box Company offers the widest range of water works products available in the industry today. We constantly look for ways to improve our product line, and new products are being developed to meet the ever-changing demands of the water works industry.

Whether your needs are for service line connections, water main installation and repair, joint restraint, indoor or outdoor water meter settings, fabricated steel fittings or water meter testing equipment, The Ford Meter Box Company has the right products for the job.
