Installing electronic meter reading devices in outside pit settings is easy when using Ford Meter Box plastic lids with AMR or ERT accessories. Ford Meter Box offers the industry's largest variety of meter pit lids and options for electronic modules. No matter what your cover preference, Ford has a lid that will make electronic module installation simple and cost effective.

Ford's plastic locking lids are a wise choice for AMR systems, as they permit easy transmission of AMR signals. The plastic lid is available with an optional ERT bracket that allows the mounting of most transponders to the underside of the lid. Ford lids are slip resistant and are excellent for lawn applications, walkways or other non-vehicular traffic areas. Constructed of high strength polypropylene, which resists chemical attack and the weakening effect of ultraviolet light, Ford lids are durable and reliable.
