

The New Ford Ultra-Flex

Pat. Pending

A “One Size Fits All” Coupling- REALLY!

Sure. You have heard it before. “This coupling fits everything!” Then you read the fine print and discover there are exceptions.

Those days are now history because you can purchase a wide range coupling that is truly “one size fits all.” The new Ford Meter Box Ultra-Flex,

FC2W Ductile Iron Wide Range

Coupling, patent pending, is a coupling for all occasions.

The Ford Style FC2W is made from ductile iron and can accommodate a greater range in pipe O.D.s within any given nominal size.

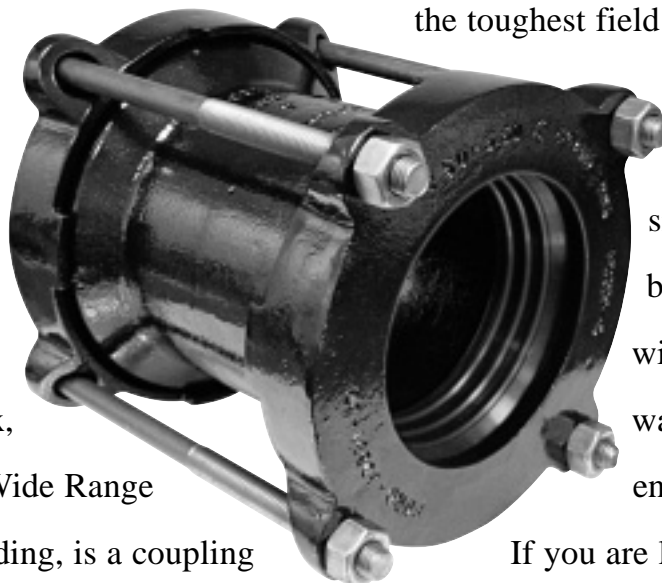

The Ultra-Flex comes standard with an epoxy coating. When combined with optional stainless steel bolts, this coupling will last in the toughest field conditions. The expanded range of the FC2W provides a versatile coupling. A single Ultra-Flex can fit a broader range of pipe sizes with a 250 PSI rated working water pressure without alternate end rings or gaskets.

If you are looking for an easy-to-use,

high-quality wide range coupling that is made like you would make it yourself, contact your local Ford distributor or call The Ford Meter

Box Company.
