

The Meter Setter

Connecting Together

fordmeterbox.com

In today's world, having access to accurate, up-to-date information is essential. That's why the best place to start is our official website at fordmeterbox.com. From product information and technical resources to customer support tools, the website is built to deliver firsthand knowledge straight from Ford Meter Box.

For video training content, we offer even more. Visit FMB.TV or fordmeterbox.tv to watch our full video library. The site provides fast, easy-to-follow content without the distraction of ads. You can find the information you need day or night, with videos optimized for mobile viewing and designed for any device. If you already use YouTube, our channel is still active and a great place to start. But for the latest, most complete experience, FMB.TV is the way to go.

We also maintain a strong presence on LinkedIn, where we share product updates, industry news, and company announcements. It's a valuable resource for our sales teams, partners, and professional contacts in the U.S. and abroad.

Facebook remains one of the ways we reach our local community. We use it to highlight events and share behind-the-scenes moments. It's where we showcase the people behind our products and celebrate what makes Ford Meter Box unique.

If you enjoy reading the Meter Setter, there's even more to discover online. Each of these channels offers a clear and direct way to hear from Ford Meter Box. Follow along to stay informed.