

NATIONAL RURAL WATER ASSOCIATION NAMES FORD METER BOX

“ASSOCIATE MEMBER OF THE YEAR”

National Rural Water Association, the nation's largest utility membership organization, has awarded one of its highest honors, the “NRWA Associate Member of the Year” award to The Ford Meter Box Company. As its 1997 “Associate Member of the Year,” NRWA recognizes Ford Meter Box's outstanding support and contributions to rural and small community water systems.

National Rural Water Association is an affiliation of 45 State Rural Water Associations representing over 18,000 rural and small community water and wastewater utilities. NRWA, headquartered in Duncan, Oklahoma, is committed to protecting and improving the quality of life and environment of rural America.

Ford Meter Box values its relationship with America's preeminent water works organizations, National Rural Water Association and American Water Works Association. Our connection with these groups has proven invaluable in helping us meet the changing needs of our customers.

Ford Meter Box is proud to accept the award as the “NRWA Associate Member of the Year.” The Ford Meter Box Company is committed to the standard of personal quality established by our founder Edwin Ford in 1898. Ford quality includes well designed and thoroughly tested products, manufactured with the finest raw materials available, and supported by a conscientious manufacturing, sales and customer service team.

NRWA President Jim Dunlap (left) presents Ford Meter Box President, Terry Agness, the “NRWA Associate Member of the Year” award at an awards banquet, during the 22nd annual NRWA Conference.

