

FISHING FOR FORD PRODUCT INFORMATION? TRY THE "NET"!

If you've been contemplating gaining access to the Internet, here's another good reason to join the cyberspace crowd. Ford Meter Box Company is proud to announce our new Website, where you'll find the most up to date information on Ford and Uni-Flange products. Our home page is accessible 24 hours a day, every day; our address is easy to remember -

At our Website you'll find concise descriptions of our major product categories, a brief history of Ford product innovation and an on-line literature request form. Information on the Uni-Flange line can be accessed through the Ford Website, or directly by going to www.uniflange.com. As our Website is not static, but constantly improving, look for future enhancements such as downloadable product information sheets, product drawings and submittal data. We welcome suggestions from our users on useful improvements.

Ford Meter Box is committed to "hassle free" product support and service. Our new Website is just the first in a series of developments designed to give our customers quick and reliable information on our product line and services. We're working on additional innovations, such as CD-ROM "super catalogs" and fax on demand submittal data.

See you on the net.
